

If you run a trucking company, then you know first hand just how expensive workers compensation for your business can be. And with work comp rates on truckers rising in almost every state, the costs of this policy can cripple a small to medium sized trucking outfit in no time at all.

Our special truckers workers compensation program can put an end to all of that and allow you to put a nice share of what you pay now to your insurance company, back into your pocket. But you must qualify to enter our program. The qualification rules are tough, yes, but if you meet our guidelines then you stand a strong chance of saving big on your workers compensation insurance.

Check this list to see if you qualify for these amazing low rates for your trucker's work comp:

- Trucking Company domiciled in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, or Tennessee
- No hauling of hazardous materials
- No hauling of Gasoline
- You have workers compensation coverage in place right now
- Your work comp experience modification factor is not above 1.35

If your trucking company meets all of these qualifications, then you owe it to yourself to pick up the phone and call us, right now, at 877-687-7557. Don't delay, act now to put some of that work comp expense money back into your own pocket!
