

As much as you can afford. Liability claims are by nature unlimited and you cannot reasonably predict how large a claim will be before it happens. With that in mind, we advise that you purchase the highest liability limits you can afford on your auto insurance policy.