

If you use your truck in business then a commercial auto policy may be most appropriate for you. Of course if the truck is titled in your business name then you absolutely need a commercial auto policy instead of a personal auto policy. To get learn more about the ins and outs of commercial auto versus personal auto insurance, click here .